

Join us for our special NLP Diploma in Coaching Programme

In essence a coach is someone who helps another person achieve higher effectiveness by creating a dialogue that leads to awareness and action. Coaching is about bringing out the potential of the coachee, supporting them as they move from where they are to where they want to be, and acting as an accountability partner through the process. Key to being an effective leader is the ability to nurture performance in others. Coaching is one of the ways in which we can do that.

NLP Diploma in Coaching Practice has been specially designed to support you in further enhancing your coaching skills. You will have the opportunity to explore a whole range of topics which will equip you with the knowledge, skills and confidence to lead both yourself and others to greater levels of performance.

NLP, or the Study of Excellence, has long been recognised as a powerful personal and business development tool. It's a way of decoding and reproducing what works in thinking, language and behaviour.

NLP is the study of the structure of your subjective experience. By increasing your awareness of the strategies people are using to achieve what they want, NLP helps you consistently achieve the results you want for yourself, your teams and your organisations.

What can you expect to achieve?

By the end of this enriching programme you'll be able to:

- Coach yourself and others towards achieving both your own and other's potential
- Communicate confidently and articulately, in ways that enhance understanding, trust and interest
- Be aware of their own and others use of both enabling and inhibiting language patterns and challenge, with elegance, those patterns to increase awareness and change
- Develop a sensitivity to others and understand situations from different points of view, and be able to take effective balance decisions to influence and gain the co-operation and commitment of others
- Recognise the impact of your own and other's non-verbal communication
- Deepen and develop your rapport building and listening skills to develop relationships within your team, across the business and with your customers and clients
- Understand how you and others decipher everyday experiences differently, thus enabling you to flex your communication style and have more impact and influence
- Consider and adopt beliefs of excellence that support your personal and professional goals
- Motivate yourself and others by determining the values and criteria by which you and others make decisions
- Set compelling goals for yourself and for others, in a way that creates ownership and accountability and delivers results for the business

- Enhance your personal growth through developing your ability to give and receive feedback
- Be able to use a simple structure to handle performance issues and provide constructive performance feedback.
- Respond resourcefully and creatively to events and changes in your work and personal life

Imagine improving your communication skills, being able to get the results you want, assisting others in achieving their goals, and enabling yourself and other people to be more resourceful.

By successfully completing this programme, you'll gain a NLP Diploma in Coaching Practice Certification, as well as powerful skills that will allow you to coach yourself and others towards fulfilling both your own and their true potential.

While our training covers the core syllabus required to attain a Diploma Level Qualification, they're also tailored to reflect the individuality and uniqueness of each member of the group. As we work together you'll gain new insights and learning that will contribute to and enrich both your personal and business life.
